

Our Chapter's Web Site

(a word from your Webmaster)

If you haven't been recently at our Chapter's web site (www.harmonize.com/mall_city_chorus) I would recommend you do that and then do it regularly.

My intention is to make it a one-stop barbershop portal, where you'd go for all your barbershopping needs. These are some of the recent highlights:

- All of Bulletunes are there and new issues appear even before they are out in the mail. My future plan is to make Bulletunes searchable with a Table of Contents and with each page delivered individually.
- I've added links to all International quartets and choruses' champions (VM, Platinum, Acoustix, Power Play, Gas House Gang).
- Some PIO choruses are linked (those that have their web sites) – Lighthouse Chorus and Grand Rapids.
- A copy of the most recent Chapter brochure (the blue one) is there.
- Several interesting sites on music theory have been added (Easy Music Theory, Secrets of singing, Sound feeling)
- There are a couple of links to music clips and radio broadcast (A Cappella Radio International and Jukebox). If anyone knows other sites with sound clips, please let me know. I heard a comment from a new visitor that they'd like to listen to sound clips on the site.
- Some of the Society documents on barbershop history and style definition are added
- I've started the Chapter's scrapbook. Go to Quartets' tab and see Gene's first public appearance (thanks to Gene for sharing the picture!). Everybody is welcome to add a picture file or photo
- There are links to a cappella sites
- Our current repertoire is under review and new songs in NoteWorthy format are added regularly.

Future plans include adding a tab for 2001 Annual show, Chapter's history scrapbook, where I intend to publish the articles from Kalamazoo Gazette available in the Kalamazoo Public Library. I would appreciate any other suggestions and help to make this a really great site!

Alexander Boltenko
aboltenko@hotmail.com

HEARTSPRING

"We Sing That They Shall Speak" — Heartspring

September – We collected $25.10